Dear Friends,

October / November 2016

First off, congratulations to those of you who entered contest to guess the closing price on Gold and Silver for September 30,2016 Enjoy your one ounce 2016 Silver Eagles! It was nice hearing from some of the surprised winners!

The election is fast approaching. Even if you don't like either of the candidates, Please Vote! There is far too much at stake this year to let your not voting count double for those who you disagree most with. I like to start each morning with something inspiring or motivational before immersing myself in the economic and financial information part of running a precious metals company. Recently, the booster shot of morning energy has come from Tony Robins CD's and Joyce Meyers on TV. On Oct 5,2016 Pat and I found this message to be especially timely. <http://www.joycemeyer.org/America.aspx>

We have shared the following a couple of times in the past years and most of you have read it somewhere else before too:

A democracy is always temporary in nature; it simply cannot exist as a permanent form of government. A democracy will continue to exist up until the time that voters discover that they can vote themselves generous gifts from the public treasury. From that moment on, the majority always votes for the candidates who promise the most benefits from the public treasury, with the result that every democracy will finally collapse over loose fiscal policy, (which is) always followed by a dictatorship."

The average age of the world's greatest civilizations from the beginning of history, has been about 200 years. During those 200 years, these nations always progressed through the following sequence:

From bondage to spiritual faith;

From spiritual faith to great courage;

From courage to liberty;

From liberty to abundance;

From abundance to complacency;

From complacency to apathy;

From apathy to dependence;

From dependence back into bondage.

America is now in the ever deepening dependency stage. It is now time to wake up and let your voice be heard. It is each of our privilege and responsibility to vote and not just stand by and whine and complain that someone is doing things wrong. Whether or not your candidate gets elected please at the very least make the effort! 54 million Christians did not vote in the last election! Whatever your beliefs are speak up for them! Your conscience will thank you.

No matter which way the election goes, one thing is certain. Life, as we know it, is about to become even more uncertain for a while. Brexit or the British exit from the EU, sent Euro-sceptics doing the happy dance around the continent June 23rd and also caused a major shakeup throughout the global markets causing Britain to lose its triple A credit rating. Emergency steps to prevent the UK from sliding into a recession were taken via the Bank of England cutting interest rates.

Britain leaving the EU has those who favored the Brexit saying they are now free now to curb immigration and control and secure the borders.

The far-right National Front party in France is picking up energy led by Marine Le Pen. She has promised that if she is elected to propose to exit the EU within six months. “Frexit” could most assuredly spur Hungary, Austria, Finland and the Netherlands to follow suite.

What do you believe the effect will be on the world’s financial system if the EU breaks down? How is Greece doing? How sound are the banking systems in Italy? What currencies will be valid and accepted? Could it be that fiat currencies are in a little trouble? When paper is turning to dust most people turn to tangibles like physical gold and silver for their purchasing power.

In spite of the political tensions of this election, and the ever rising insurance costs we still have so very much to cherish and be grateful for. It is our wish for you, our readers, that you are filled with love and hope as we end this year and step into what lies ahead with courage and devotion to being a force for good in your own lives and that each of you encourage others to do the same. Just this month, I lost 3 people I grew up with to disease. Life is fragile, astonishing, and so very short. Make memories, not just plans...

The Holidays are nearly here. Those of you who plan to gift precious metals have a plethora of items to choose from. Call us and let us help you with your gifting ideas.

We don’t often get very political in our newsletters but under the circumstances, we have received the following insert from a man we have tremendous respect for. Mr. Ken Riordan as a client, a friend and a regular attendee to our Wealth Protection conferences. Whenever Ken calls, he has so much information drawing from his vast experiences that I asked him to share some in a printed form with our readers. He was kind enough to do so.

You may remember that Senator John McCain answered a question with this song.

I have been asked for my thoughts about the situation in the Middle East (ME), thus I would like to focus on Iran. My background is West Point graduate; infantry officer who served in the 4th, 5th, 9th, and 2nd INF Divisions (Ops Officer for the Korean DMZ); Master in National Security Studies, Georgetown; Office for Counter-Proliferation Policy for the Secretary of Defense (Cheney and Wolfowitz) representing him at 200 State Dept. meetings, and four State delegations, two to Paris. From 1994 – 1998, after I retired from the military, I lived and worked in Moscow, representing US, Canadian, and German clients in Russia, Finland, and the Ukraine. I worked alone or in small teams primarily with former and current intelligence officers from both sides, very smart people.

Assumptions are important in these matters so here are mine:

1. Things don't change on the world stage - the objectives, motives, and constituencies of the major powers and their client states change very little if at all.
2. Both Republicans, invasion of Iraq driven by alleged Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMD) development, and Democrats, pulling out 10,000 combat troops from Iraq when there was no good reason to do so, are equally blamed.
3. At the end of the day, much of what we and other countries do is driven by their economic interests, which is to say money, security being a subset of those interests, not vice versa, a little like the security for your home.

4. The situation in the Middle East is a mess, will get worse before it gets better, and as former VP Al Gore said we are “stirring up a hornets’ nest in Iraq”. For once I agree with Mr. Gore.

My former West Point instructor GEN (Ret) Wesley Clark predicted quite accurately during a Washington Post interview with David Ignatius, just a few months before the invasion, that if not properly executed, i.e. sufficient ground forces and national commitment, the incursion would lead to civil war, chaotic rule, and Iran would fill the vacuum in one form or the other. We had supported Saddam Hussein for many years to serve as a counterweight to Iran. GEN (Ret) Shinseki, Army Chief of Staff, was replaced after recommending that the invasion force required several hundred thousand troops who would be needed to occupy post-war Iraq. Additionally, since my OSD office contributed two of the inspectors for WMD in Iraq, and I represented the SECDEF at the first State Dept. meeting to form the teams. It can be stated that there were no WMD of any significance when we invaded Iraq in 2002. GEN (Ret) John Abizaid, my West Point classmate agrees with that statement.

So, was the war primarily economic to feed the Washington war machine whom President Eisenhower had warned us about, with Saddam Hussein a convenient excuse? What actions were taken against Saudi Arabia who contributed 15 of the 19 attackers on 9/11 none were Iraqis, and paid Bin Laden many millions to leave Saudi Arabia?

What has evolved now in the Middle East is disturbing at best, very dangerous to the world order at worse. As a result of the Obama/Clinton decisions to announce a timetable for leaving Afghanistan; to withdraw 10,000 combat troops from Iraq; to publicly call for the ouster of President Mubarak in Egypt; to actively support the ouster of Colonel Muammar Gaddafi in Libya; and to involve the CIA and US special ops soldiers in the attempt to overturn the President Bashar Hafez al-Assad of Syria where over 400,000 people have been killed, approximately what the US lost in WWII - we now have chaos in that theater; a growing lack of respect much less fear of US power, strategy and intent; and more the 1,000,000 refugees from that region now living in Europe. The refugees whose ranks hold many young men could be thought of as an occupying force, and will change for the foreseeable future the demographic, ethnicity, religious, and democratic structures of that continent. Add to this “The Obama administration on Wednesday paid $490 million in cash assets to Iran and will have released a total of $11.9 billion” to de - construct their nuclear bomb program, an action which no other country, i.e. Israel, Pakistan, and N. Korea, has ever done.

The upshot of these ill-advised actions involving many people who have had little or no experience to prepare them for these decisions, the President and his National Security advisor for instance, is an explosive situation with Israel at its center, pulling in armies from the East (Russia) and the countries of NATO, something that can be found in the Bible (Matthew and Revelation). With Russian ships moving aggressively towards the waters near Syria, it will not take much, and that can be unintended, for warfare to begin between the great powers. Russia has no history of bluffing; they are quite serious when they threaten. This underlines the danger of what we have done in Iran, where the decision to “Go Nuclear”, in 4 minutes we are told by Mrs. Clinton, may not be handled as rationally or with the same restraint as a Russia or US leader. I cannot imagine this situation having been handled worse, and every American should be concerned, particularly as we choose a president who may further pursue these failed and destructive policies.

RECOMMENDATIONS

GOLD CATEGORY ONE

INSURANCE

Resource Consultants feels that the most important part of your portfolio is Gold and Silver Bullion bars and coins. These offer a store of wealth and purchasing power which is based on the value of the metal. If you are new to the physical metals market, you might have the idea that only the very rich can afford Gold or Silver Coins. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Gold coins from United States, Canada, Austria, South Africa and several other countries are available in 1oz., ½ oz., 1/4oz. and 1/10oz. sizes

While many pick up rolls of gold coins, these coins are available from Resource Consultants in any quantity that fits your budget. The prices and premiums can and do fluctuate until the trade is locked in with the market when you place your order. Quantity discounts could also apply.

You will be surprised how quickly you can accumulate a nice store of portable real wealth by just putting away a coin or two each payday. The physical metals prices of Bullion coins will move as the spot prices fluctuate and premiums may also fluctuate with supply and demand.

South Africa first minted the one ounce Gold Krugerrand in 1967. It was struck in 22 karat gold and contained exactly 1oz of pure gold. It weighs slightly over an ounce because it is mixed with a small amount of copper for hardness.

Fractional gold coins such as ½ ,1/4 and 1/10 ounce Gold Eagles are available in rolls or singles and are a favorite for gifting!

PRE 1986 UNITED STATES OLDER GOLD

CATEGORY TWO COINS

INSURANCE WITH A KICKER

We have always loved the U.S. minted older coins such as the $20 Saint Gaudens or Liberty in XF condition as well as the $10 and $5 Indian or Liberty. These Beautiful American Gold coins have a small premium over the bullion coins while offering the added value of being a piece of history and beauty that is no longer minted. .

The holidays are fast approaching. Keep in mind that gifts of Gold and Silver coins are time honored traditions

At this time we are recommending $20 St Gaudens in AU condition. With Spot at around $1303. We have a limited quantity of these Almost Uncirculated coins available at $1400.00 each! The diameter is .34mm

.9675 troy oz. Fine Gold content

For the lighter budget we like the AU $5 Liberty Type coin , which was minted from 1865-1908 and contains nearly 1/4oz of fine gold. As I write this letter, they are available at $397.00 each. The actual diameter is 21mm

GOLD ~ CATEGORY THREE ~ RARITIES AND NUMISMATICS

The only numismatic coins we recommend are Minted by the United States Mint and third party graded by PCGS or NGC. This speculative category can be a very satisfying part of your portfolio once you have taken care of category one and two. Although, many of our clients have done very well with this category and love the pride and privacy that owning the older and more rare coins provide. This category is just now beginning to pick up again but has not moved as much as the bullion “yet”. Those of you who love these more valuable or collector coins can take advantage of this market before they too regain the values seen before 2008. Call us for current prices, availabilities or recommendations. We can help you put together beautiful sets of different dates and mintmarks or denominations.

SILVER ~ CATEGORY ONE

PURCHASING POWER INSURANCE

Silver is the most affordable of the precious metals. If Gold is the place to store your wealth for the future like a precious metals savings account, then Silver is where you store your purchasing power for the everyday things and you can look at it as your precious metals checking account. If Gold at some point goes to 10,000.000 per ounce and many believe it can and will, then, that would place the value of silver at about $500 per ounce! What if it only went half that high in value? Still not bad, right? Where do you think the currencies will be in one year? Two years? 10 years? It does not give us a warm and fuzzy feeling. Silver, on the other hand is like Gold, real money. We strongly encourage you to pick up as much It could just be the best investment you of this white metal as you possibly can on a regular basis. It could just be one the best investments you will ever make!

Pre 1965 U.S. circulated 90% silver coins or “junk silver” have become more available for the time being largely due a little liquidation by holders who have been waiting for the recent rise in silver prices. The 90% silver is sold by the face value and a $1000. face value bag will contain approximately 715 oz of actual silver. Resource Consultants makes these coins available in $1000. $500. $250. or $100 face value bags. The prices fluctuate with the spot prices of silver.

1oz Silver Eagles, Philharmonics, Maple Leafs and the new 2016 .9999 1oz Silver Austrian Kangaroos are the favorite bullion silver choices as are the 1oz Silver Rounds. These items are available in rolls or 20 or 25 ounces and Resource Consultants will pick up the shipping in insurance charge for orders of 300 oz. or more. Monster Boxes of 500 ounces offer the best discounts.

1oz Silver Round

Other metals to consider adding to your precious metals portfolio or IRA are Platinum or Palladium bars or coins. We will be happy to assist you in putting together a great collection over time.

Don't wait to start or add to your portfolio only to realize the dollar has died and you no longer are able to protect your purchasing power, or you have lost the opportunity to get in at the current low prices. It does not and should not be an all or nothing decision. An abundant life is all about balance. Just get started and stay steady in your acquisitions. When the time comes to liquidate, we can also help you with that. 800-494-4149.
