

Dear Friends,

December 2016

Special Alert

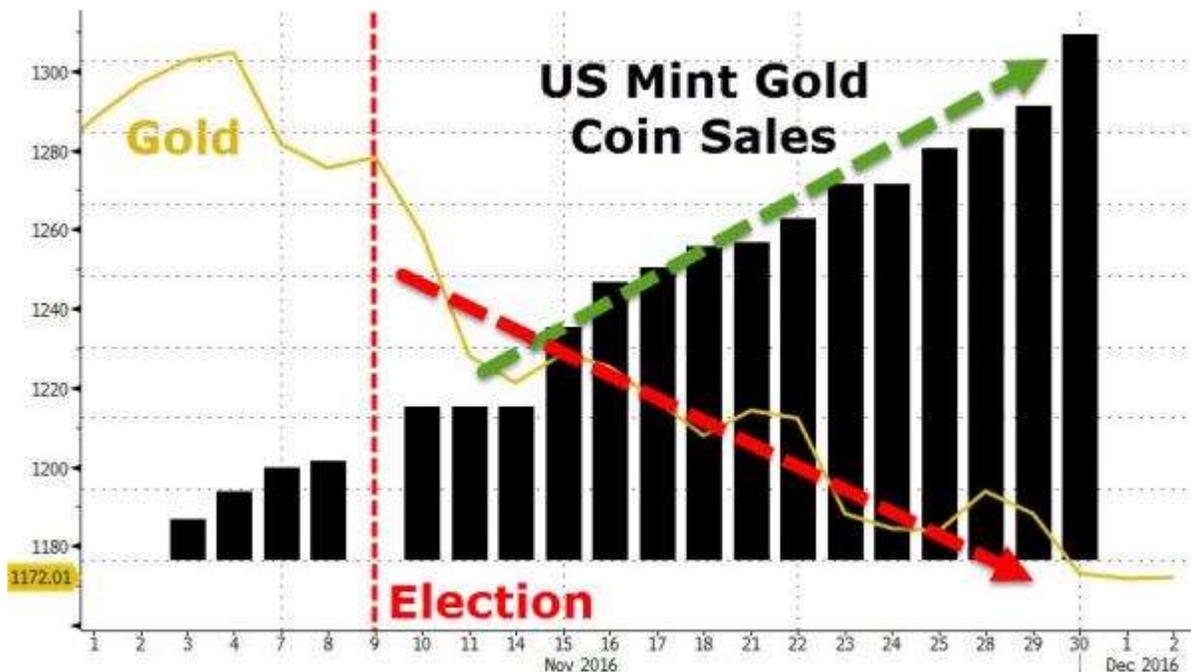

Resource Consultants, Inc. will be closed for the Holidays from Dec. 22nd 2016 until Jan 2st 2017. We want to make sure that you, our valued clients are taken care of before we go.

There are only a couple more weeks left in 2016 to take advantage of the recent and notable drops in the prices of precious metals. The market manipulation has most of us very frustrated and numbed trying to figure out what is happening. This recent deep and downward correction is a bound to have a big and strong bounce off the bottom. The trend for the unsure or unwise is to follow the herd and sell from fear when the market drops and buy for the same reason when the prices are high. We suggest you consider the rationality of that thinking and try to leave the fear out and listen to the reasoning side of your brain. Buy low and on the market dips. NOW IS A GREAT TIME TO BUY!

For fastest shipping and delivery, please ask for wiring instructions when placing your order. Most transactions ship the following day after wire is received.

Even if you don't need the metals delivered before the year's end, try to take advantage of the pullbacks when they happen. We expect that the rate hike which the Feds will make this January will be just one of the factors to insure that 2017 will be a wonderful year for precious metals investors.

Source, Global Research: In the US, physical gold demand has soared post-election in The United States as the paper prices was pummeled...

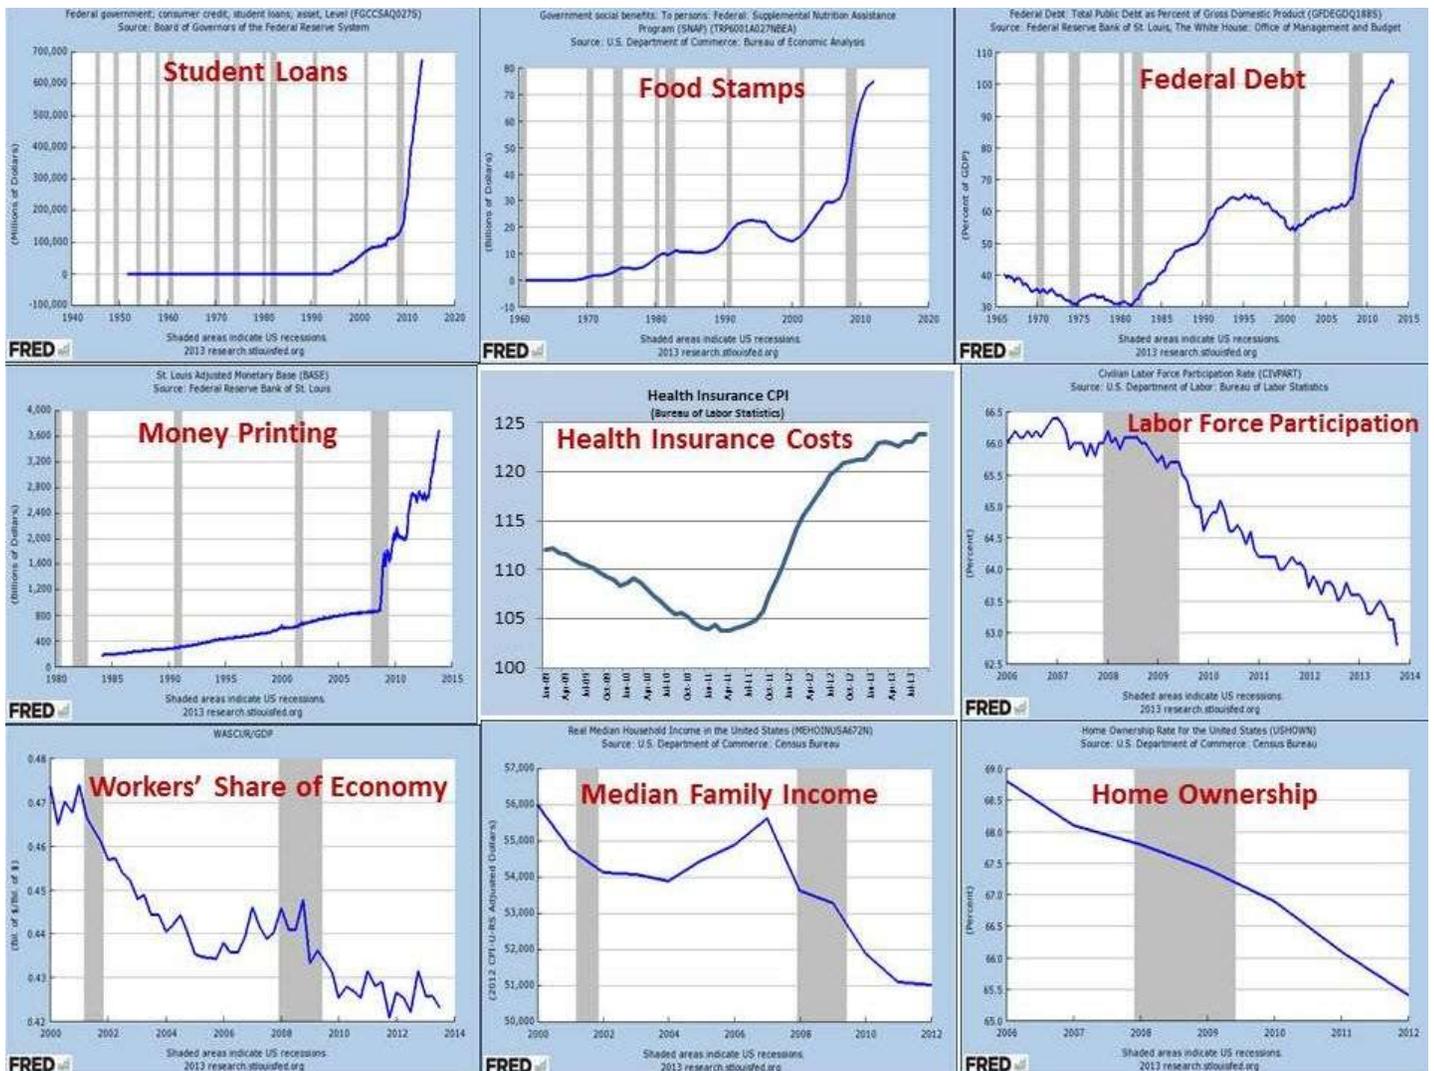

A quote from Mark Twain: “I am more concerned about the return of my money than the return on my money”.

There might not ever been a better time to make owning tangible, real money, physical precious metals, a primary objective than now. Protecting your wealth and buying power needs to be a real priority. Our financial system is faulty, unstable and frail. This is not just a problem here in the U.S. . This is a global financial epidemic. Less than 5% of the financial assets worldwide is invested in gold. What will happen to the cost and availability of Gold when more and more become aware and start taking possession and holding this true store of wealth?

All of these charts show the changes of the past 8 years in 9 charts - Here is the real story of America 's decline right from their own Fed web sites. Don't get caught going in a wrong direction with your finances. Help your family and friends to protect and grow their financial independence by educating them as well.

What could happen if instead of just “following our dreams” we pursued our goals”?

That's it for this year folks! Our R.C.I. family wishes each of you a Merry Christmas and Joyous Holiday Season! It is our prayer that you are truly blessed and notice Christmas miracles in your life and create a Healthy, Happy New Year filled with Peace and all that warms your heart and hearth!

God Bless each of you,
